In the event of a federal government shutdown at midnight on September 30, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Georgia will continue operations and remain open during regular business hours on Tuesday, October 1, 2013. The Judiciary's use of contingency funds that are outside of the normal appropriated funding from Congress enables courts to continue normal operations for a short period of time. With these funds, we expect the Judiciary can continue operations for two weeks during a government shutdown due to a lapse in funding. After that period, operations may be affected unless a final budget bill for Fiscal Year 2014 is passed or a continuing resolution authorizing and providing funding for an interim period is established.
